

Award-winning colourway

The eye-catching palette in this house has won a major Resene Total Colour Award

Daring to be different has paid off handsomely for the interior designer behind this project.

Terry Hogg of Lick Light + Colour won the Resene Total Colour Award – Residential Interior 2013 for his design, which contrasts the vibrant red of Resene Scarlet with the cool, calm presence of Resene Alabaster.

“Upon entering the house, you are immediately confronted with the cocooning universe of pure colour that is Resene Scarlet. Moving into the Resene Alabaster kitchen-dining area provides a breathing space – and the perfect counterpoint to the world of colour up front.”

Terry Hogg says he likes to help clients explore the possibilities of colour.

“People have an emotional response to colour, so it’s never about forcing my ideas. Rather it’s about leading them beyond what they think is possible. Here, balancing the vibrant hues with complex neutrals creates a very sophisticated and indulgent colour scheme that showcases the client’s collectibles.”

The paint choice was Resene SpaceCote Low Sheen waterborne enamel.
