You will need:

- Paintbrushes
- Pencil
- Primed artists' canvas board
- Resene Testpots of Resene Alabaster, Resene Nero, Resene Surfie Green and Resene Wild Thing

Step one

Paint the artists' canvas board with two coats of Resene Wild Thing, allowing two hours for each coat to dry.

Step two

Use the pencil to draw a large cat shape on the canvas board, as shown.

Step three

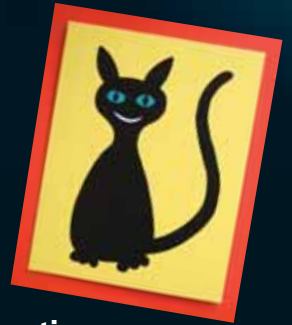

Paint in the cat with two coats of Resene Nero, allowing two hours for each coat to dry.

Step four

Paint the eyes with Resene Surfie Green and a smiley mouth with Resene Alabaster. Once dry, paint in the pupils of the eye with Resene Nero.

Create your very own lucky black cat painting using a few Resene Testpots.

Top tip:

If you don't have an artists' canvas board just use thick cardboard primed with one coat of Resene Quick Dry waterborne primer undercoat.

Here's another idea:

Create a cute dog painting using testpots of Resene Cupid, Resene Gorse, Resene Havoc, Resene Korma, Resene Nero and Resene Tangerine.
